Collaborative Learning = Oracy in Curriculum Context
makes challenging curriculum accessible.
improves social relations in the classroom.
provides scaffolding for exploratory talk.

If you can't talk it through first with others, you won't be able to write about it confidently!

COLLABORATIVE LEARNING PROJECT

Project Director: Stuart Scott

We support a network of teaching professionals to develop and disseminate accessible talk-for-learning activities in all subject areas and for all ages.

Basic principles behind our talk for learning activities:
Oracy in curriculum contexts!

Build on children's own prior knowledge.
Move from concrete to abstract.
Ensure everyone works with everyone else.
Extend social language towards curriculum language.
Provide motivating ways to go over the same knowledge more than once.

Oracy in practice!
Oracy in context!

Don't Cry Sly Track Game

This activity is only a starter pack with space for you to be creative. You have a set of vegetables which of course you can print out twice to play pairs or match with vegetable names. The idea of the track game is that you go round the board and every time you land on a cup cake truck you can collect a vegetable. When you collect them all you then collect the dinner.
