

☆ What is a sentence?

a complete thought?

a good time to take a rest?

a subject, a verb and an object?

I am not a sentence! I am a PLARG!

These are snishes

Play the plarg game!!

This game is for four players.

Each player has a bingo board with full stops and questionmarks

You also have a set of cards. These should be spread out upside down on your table.

Players take turns to pick a up a small card and read out what is on it. If they think it is a sentence they can put it on their board, but all the players must agree. If they don't think it is a sentence they must replace the card in the same place.

First player to cover all the spaces on their board is the winner.
